

Soprano

Autumn

Adapted from Autumn: An Ode
by Samuel Johnson, 1709-1784

Transcribed from The Evangelical Harmony, 1800.

D minor
Daniel Belknap, 1800

♩ = 120

5 'Twas spring, 'twas sum - mer, all was gay; The Oh what re - mains, what lin - gers yet, To 9 flowers of spring are swept a - way;

cheer me in the dark - 'ning hour?

13 Now au - tumn bends a clou - dy brow, And
The grape re - mains, the friend of wit, In 16 sum - mer's sweets de - sert the bough.

love and mirth of might - ty power.

20 Now na - ked and de - form - ed are seen The Sittl, still the jo - cund strain shall flow The 23 mea - dows late - ly dressed in green; The pulse with vig - orous rap - ture beat; My 25 groves and fields are dis - ar - rayed; The Stel - la with new charms shall glow, and song - sters of the wood have fled.

ev - 'ry bliss in wine shall meet.